THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
DISTRICT OF UTAH

ALEGEUS TECHNOLOGIES, LLC, a
Delaware limited liability company,

Plaintiff,

v.

DIGICERT, INC., a Utah Corporation,

Defendant.

JOINT MOTION TO VACATE TEMPORARY RESTRAINING ORDER

Case No. 2:24-cv-00534

District Judge Howard C. Nielson, Jr.

Magistrate Judge Dustin B. Pead

Plaintiff Alegeus Technologies, LLC and Defendant DigiCert, Inc. (“DigiCert”), by and through counsel, hereby submit this Joint Motion to Vacate Temporary Restraining Order (the “Motion”).

INTRODUCTION AND REQUESTED RELIEF

On July 30, 2024, Plaintiff Alegeus Technologies, LLC (“Alegeus”), applied for and obtained a temporary restraining order (“TRO”) precluding DigiCert from decertifying or revoking certain digital security certificates relating to Alegeus' vendor websites. (Dkt. Nos. 2, 3.) The Court's order entering the TRO provided that the TRO would be for a period of seven days or until the Court is able to schedule a hearing on the TRO. (Dkt. No. 3.)

Two days later, on August 1, 2024, the parties filed a Notice Regarding Order Granting Alegeus Technologies, LLC's Ex Parte Motion for Temporary Restraining Order (the "Notice"). (Dkt. No. 6.) In the Notice, the parties informed the Court that they were "not requesting that the Court schedule a further hearing" on the TRO. (Id. at 1.) The parties further informed the Court that they anticipated Alegeus's websites would be recertified within the seven days period. (Id. at 2.)

The parties are pleased to report that the affected websites have had their certificates recertified. Accordingly, the issue has been resolved, and there is no longer a need for a TRO. The Parties therefore jointly move the Court to vacate the TRO.

Dated: August 2, 2024

Respectfully submitted,

/s/ Paul J. Sampson
